

exclaimed, 'Friend, down on your knees, let us cry for mercy.' They knelt down and prayed, and shortly afterwards the visitor took his leave. The preacher shut himself up in his closet. Next Sabbath, word was sent that the minister was unwell, and could not appear. The same thing happened the Sabbath following. On the third Sabbath, the preacher made his appearance before the congregation, worn with his inward conflict, and pale, but his eyes beaming with joy, and commenced his discourse with the surprising and affecting declaration, that he had now, for the first time, passed through the strait gate. You will ask what had occurred to him in his chamber, during the interval which had elapsed? 'A storm passed over him, but the Lord was not in the storm; an earthquake, but the Lord was not in the earthquake; a fire, but the Lord was not in the fire. Then came a still small voice, on which the man enveloped his face in his mantle, and from that time knew what was the Gospel, and what was grace.'"

A Bad Box.

Our foreman is sick and in bed, and our senior devil is rusticated, and worse than all, our better-half is on a visit to home, and we are keeping bachelor's house. Here is a peek of troubles for you. If this is not enough to excuse us for not publishing a better paper this week—we have nothing more to say.

The Bankrupt law has been repealed by the House of Representatives—yeas 124 nays 96.—Every effort was made by the opponents of the Repeal to stave it off, and several days were consumed in points of order, calling the yeas and nays, and in motions for adjournment. But all to no purpose. In the Senate, some doubt as yet hangs upon its action. Mr. MOREHEAD has indicated his intention to be governed by the instructions of the Legislature of Kentucky. His colleague (Mr. CLAY,) in such matters it seems stands in a very different position. He belongs to the whole union, and we suppose is a representative of the whole Union, and therefore, he is under no obligation to obey the will of the unselfish Kentuckians. Mr. MOREHEAD, says on this subject, "Kentucky was not so selfish as to expect the views of this distinguished individual to be bound by her local opinions. What would be proper in him, (Mr. CLAY as a national Statesman) might be inappropriate to himself, simply viewed as a Senator in Congress. Kentucky is not so selfish as to intend to appropriate to herself alone, the distinguished individual who was equally claimed by the American people." This is magnanimity indeed! and withal something new under the sun. Wonderful condescension on the part of Mr. Clay! It is to be hoped that hereafter, the American people will not be so selfish as to appropriate him to themselves, but that the Universe may have the benefit of his distinguished services. The small bit of terra firma, on this side of the Atlantic, is too contracted to give exercise to his gigantic intellect, and unadulterated patriotism.

We see it stated in the Richmond Enquirer, that a Salt mine has been discovered in Washington county Va., contiguous to the Salt springs of that part of the State. The stratum is about 150 feet thick, and lies upon a bed of plaster rock, and is little more than 200 feet below the surface of the earth. This we believe is the only mine of the kind yet discovered in the United States.

The Recorder of the City of Philadelphia, has bound over Biddle, Jaudon, &c., each in the sum of $10,000, to answer the charges preferred against them, before the Court of General sessions. Thanks to the perseverance of Mr. Austin Montgomery.

There is no room for doubting the success of the Democratic candidates for Congress in Georgia. It is supposed their majority will be about 1,000.

Senate.

On the 17th ult. Mr. Allen of O. submitted the following important resolution, viz:

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Treasury be directed to inform the Senate, as soon as practicable, whether, in his opinion, the Government can in the present exigency of its financial affairs, be carried on, without either recalling to its service the revenue derived from the sales of the public domain, and which, by an existing act is set apart for distribution to the States; or without drawing from the people, in addition to their present taxes, an amount equal to that revenue; and in consequence of its distribution, by means of increasing the taxes now levied upon them, in the form of tariff duties; or, by imposing a new and direct tax upon them; or, by borrowing upon their credit, in the form of direct loans, or of Treasury notes, to be paid eventually out of their labor and property. And if, in his opinion, the Government cannot be so carried on, without thus recalling the land revenue; or increasing the taxes; or the loans to an amount equal to that revenue, and, in consequence of its distribution, then which of those alternatives will, in his opinion, be the most economical to the people; the recall of that revenue, the taxes, or the loans? Also, that he be directed to lay before the Senate the estimates and the reasons upon which his opinions may be founded.

THE NEW GENESEE FARMER.

The cheapest Agricultural Paper in the Union—Only Fifty Cents a year, (in advance.) Sixteen large pages monthly, with cuts. J. J. THOMAS & M. B. BATEHAM, Editors. DAVID THOMAS and others, assistants. One Hundred Correspondents.

THE flattering encouragement which the New Genesee Farmer has received during the past year, has convinced the proprietors that the paper can be sustained in its native soil, and at its economical price; and while they express their gratitude for the assistance they have thus far received, they would now, with renewed confidence, appeal to the friends of Agriculture in behalf of the Second Volume. The paper is so well known, and so highly approved, that it is unnecessary to speak of its character, further than to say, that it will not suffer by a comparison with any other paper of the kind in the United States. Each successive number has shown an increase of talent and correspondents. It has received during the past year, original communications from ONE HUNDRED WRITERS, most of whom are well known practical Farmers. It also contains the most useful selections from other Agricultural journals, reports of the Markets, &c.

The object of the New Genesee Farmer is to advance the great interests of Agriculture and Horticulture—to benefit the community in general, and Farmers in particular. Experience proves that it is well calculated to promote this object; and therefore it is the duty of every friend of improvement to extend its circulation, in order that its influence may be felt throughout the Agricultural community.

The friends of Agricultural Societies should especially encourage this paper; for unless farmers read on the subject, and get their minds interested in their profession, they will not act efficiently for its advancement. The Societies formed last year in western New York, and their fine exhibitions, have already given a new impulse to the cause in this section of country; and it is confidently expected that much more will be done the coming season.

The Second Volume commenced January 1st, 1841. All Postmasters are requested to act as Agents, and remit money to the publishers. Address, BATEHAM & CROSMAN, Feb. 3 Rochester, N. Y.
